Staff from Rowett Insurance got into the party spirit as they helped organise a Cakey Tea event in the gardens of Glyn and Ann's newly-refurbished property in St Austell.

Friends of staff and members of St Austell Bay Rotary Club were invited, with ex-England international goalkeeper Nigel Martyn making a welcome appearance whilst visiting his family in St Austell.

Many of Glyn and Ann's old neighbours from Bay View Park attended including the MP for St Austell and Newquay Steve Double.

A spectacular array of cakes were baked, donated and enjoyed by everyone at the event with a raffle, a prize tombola, play your card right and casino games all helping raise an amazing £1,030 for The Cove, a new £2.8M Macmillan Support Centre which will provide care and support for patients and families in St Austell living with cancer a charity.

Thanks to Paul Williams of the St Austell Voice for the fantastic photograph.

Also joining the team is Sharon Davis who previously worked for 12 years at Derek Slaughter (Insurance Services) Ltd. She is eager to assist both existing and new clients for motor, household and travel insurance.

Company Managing director and founder Glyn Rowett said: "In a very competitive market we need professional reliable staff to give our customers the best local service we can and the three new employees will enable us to further expand our brokerage in Cornwall."
